

Haron Siringi, PhD, MPH

Epidemiologist III
Inter Tribal Council of Arizona

Professional Summary

- Experience in leading and coordinating public health surveillance activities.
- Experience coordinating programs.
- Experience conducting epidemiologic investigations, descriptive studies and analytic studies.
- Experience identifying public health problems pertinent with the population and determine feasibility studies.
- Experience collecting, analyzing, and interpreting data.

Education

- Doctor of Behavioral Health-Arizona State University (ASU)
-Integrating Health Care
- Masters in Public Health (MPH)-Lamar University
-Epidemiology
- Bachelor of Science-Public Health-Lamar University
-Cultural Diversity in Health and Illness

Family Life

1. Olivia (5 years)
2. Esther (3 years)

- Married
- Wife-Elvine (Nurse)
- Two daughters

Professional Goals

- Short-term goal

- Helping to enhance the Tribal Epidemiology Center (TEC) Department in the area of quality improvement.

- Long-term goal

- Continuing to positively impact the region's health status through partnership with communities, hospitals, and other stakeholders.